The result of the test

By the answers you submitted your IQ is 84

The same or a better result is reached by 74.43% of the people taking the test.

Information regarding the result

The result is based on previously collected statistical material of 348658 tests

You answered 17 questions correctly. However, the amount of questions answered correctly doesn't as such determine the result but it is essential how difficult questions were answered correctly. The operation of the test is more thoroughly explained in here

The average value of the test is 100. Your result has been standardized by the Cattell distribution that is commonly used in Europe. Its standard deviation is 24. Your result by the Stanford-Binet distribution (widely used in the United States, standard deviation is 16) would be 90.
